--DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION--.

On Page 4, please replace the paragraph beginning on line 5 through line 15 as rewritten below:

Fig. 1 shows by way of example main parts according to the invention in a SIM card 10 insertable in a terminal of a cellular network. On the SIM card according to the invention there is reserved user-specific data storage space for several users 1, 2,...N. Each user-specific record 11a, 11b, 11c is coupled through a connection 14 to an interface unit 12 in the SIM card. Through the interface unit 12 the SIM card can be electrically coupled via line 13 to the appropriate electrical connections in the terminal. The identification information/codes and code requests, which grant a particular user access to the functions of the terminal, are input to the SIM card through the interface unit 12. In addition, the SIM card stores a record 15 advantageously shared by all users of the terminal. The quantity of user-specific records is limited only the by storage capacity of the SIM card.
